TIME FOR THE

1944 CLINTONIAN

DEDICATION

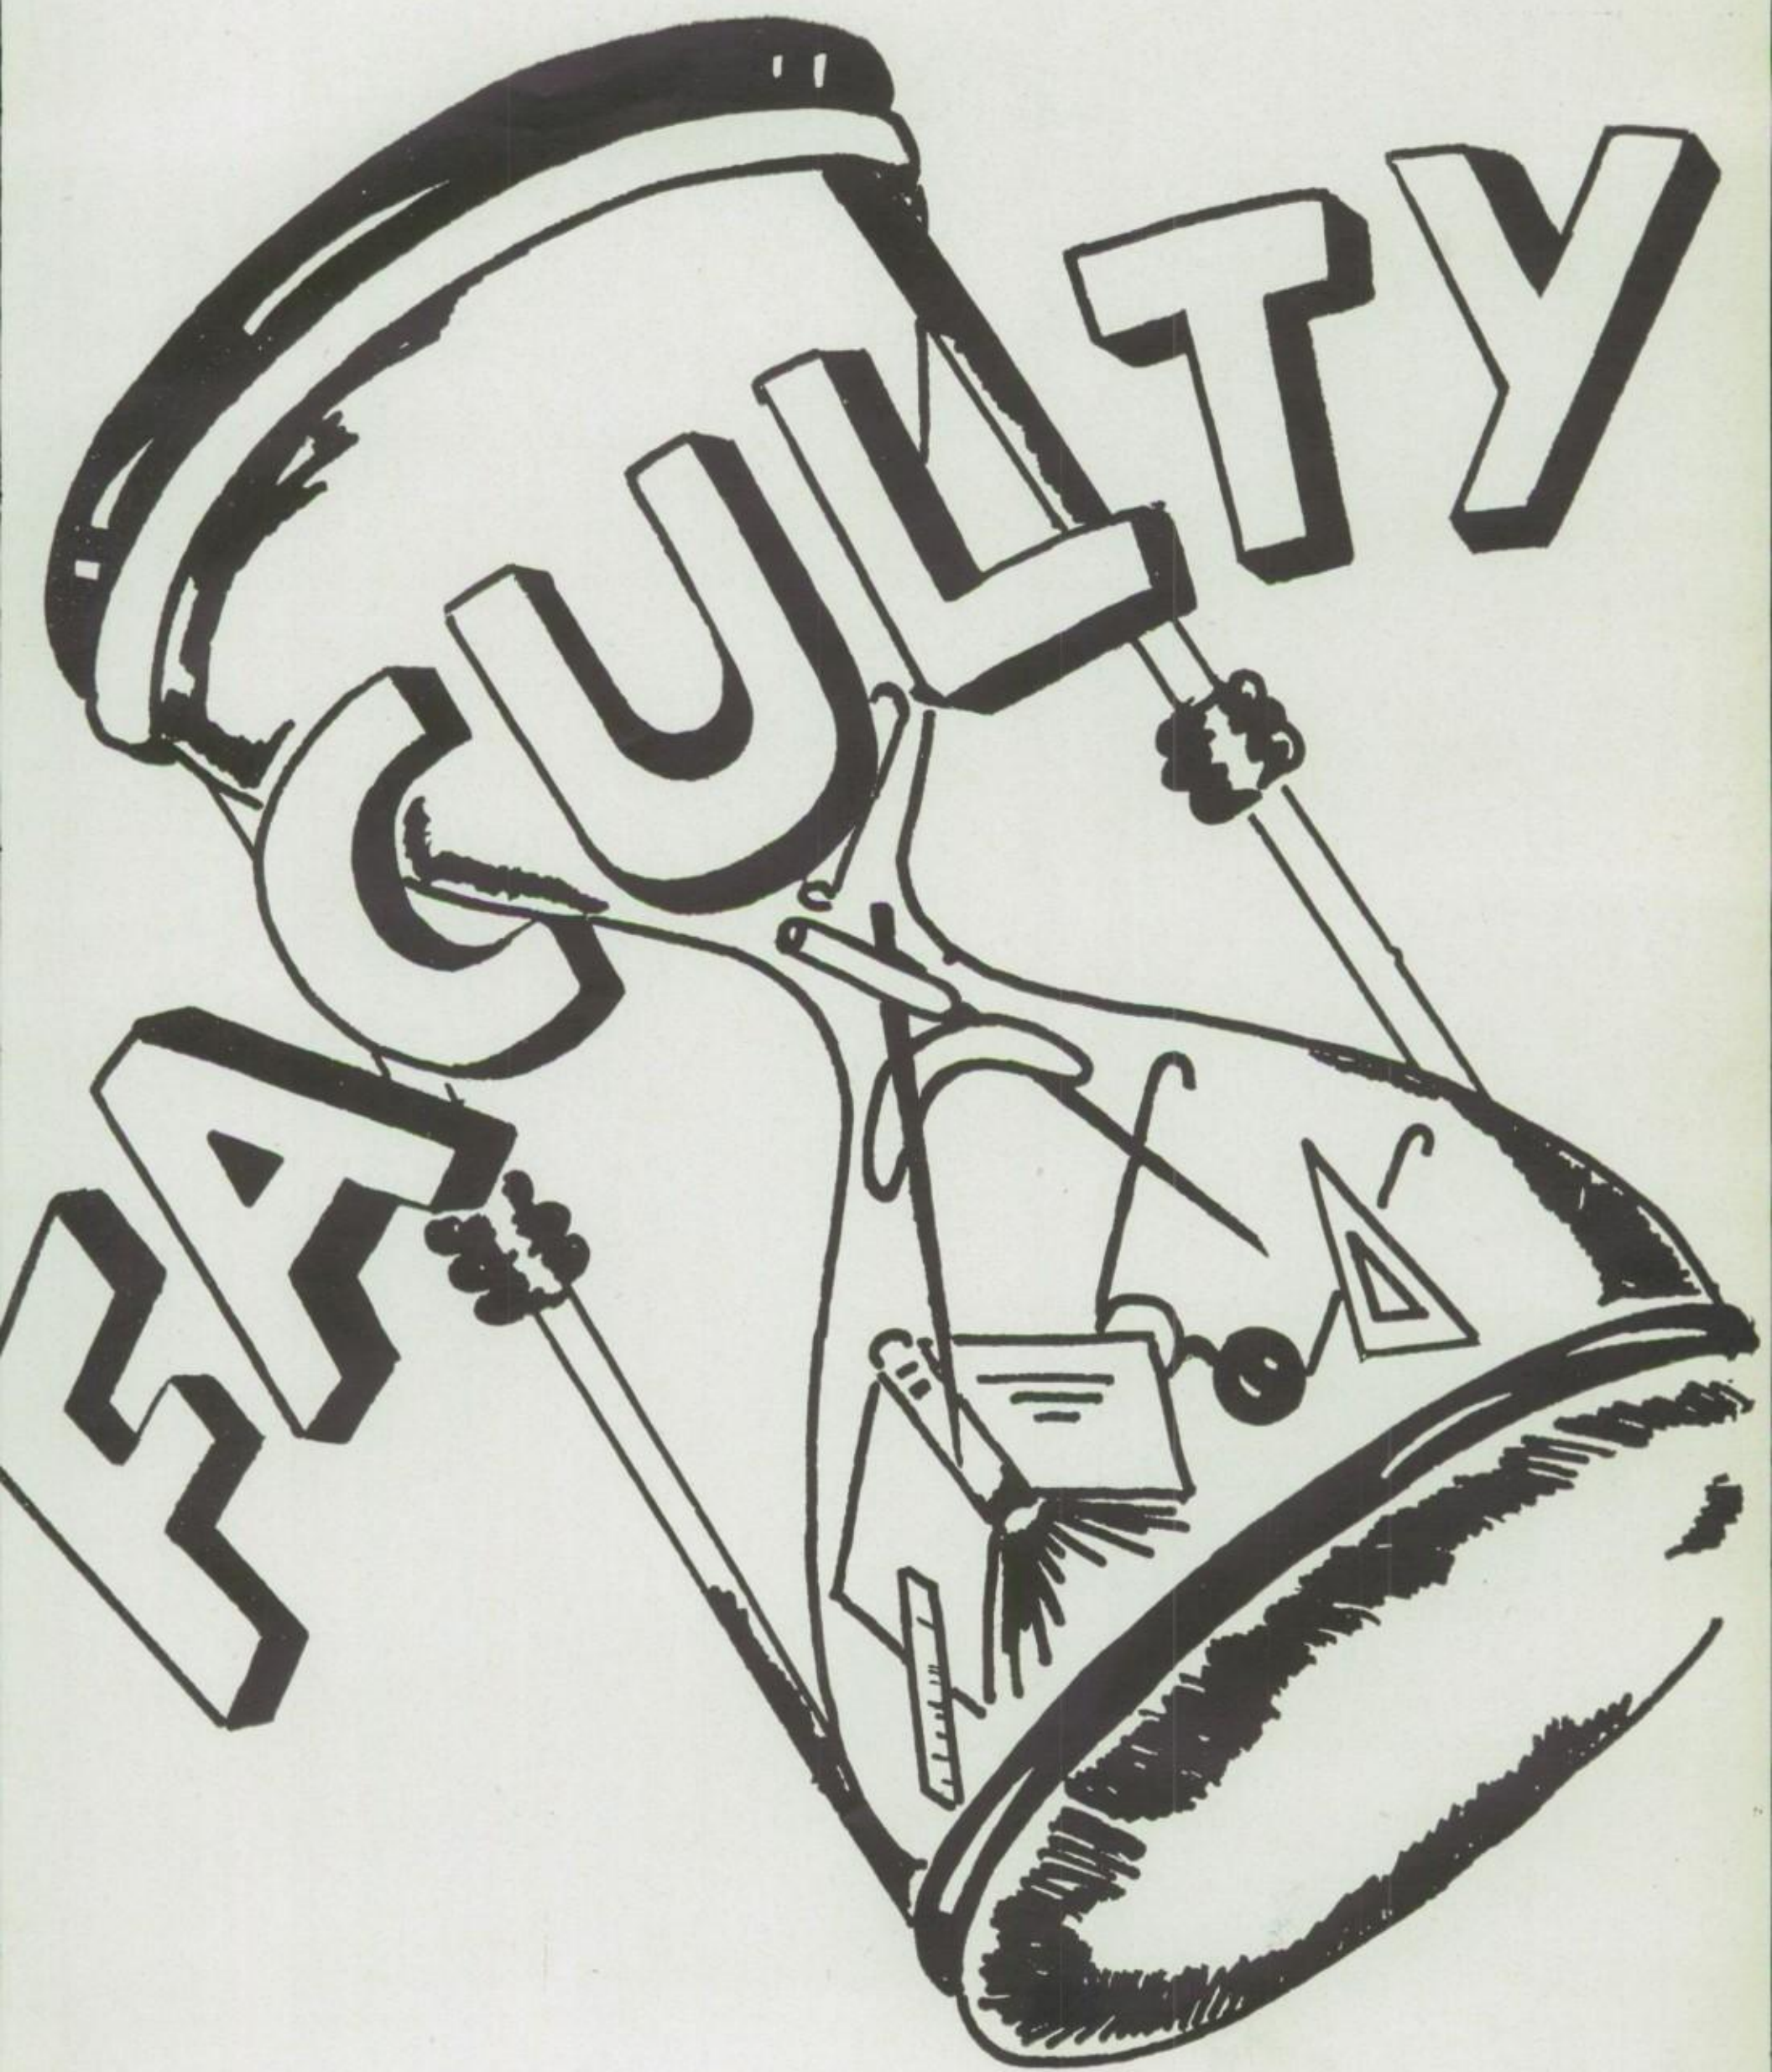

Now, more than ever, everyone feels the pressure of time.

High school has been divided into four years during which goals for the future are set. Upon graduation, the hourglass will be turned over, and we shall begin the next period of our achievement.

Faculty

The faculty feels the pressure of time by accelerated school courses and in fitting people for a life influenced by war.

PAUL B. SHARAR, Asst. Principal

Members of the class of 1944, your high school days have been in a period when the changes normally taking years to accomplish have been crowded into months. The speed of wings has reduced the world to a hundredth of its former size. As a result, you are to have global understanding and vision.

The changes produced during this period require that you comprehend the oneness of the world; that you earn a living in an occupation influenced by world economy; that your social contacts carry an appreciation and understanding of the people and cultures of many lands.

You have experienced some restrictions in material, travel, and social activities. But, you are broadened by having heroes at Bataan, Salerno, and Tarawa as well as on the athletic field; by the dramatics of living during conflict; by music expressing your consolation and rejoicing. You have felt social forces at white heat. You have lived when the controls for personal conduct were relaxed and money was spent freely. You who have met these and flown a true course may face the future with confidence.

I have faith in you American youth. You will measure up to the challenge of world citizenship. Yours is a great adventure—a future worth fighting for.

Paul B. Sharar

FRED N. JOHNSTON, Principal

The function of C.H.S. is to prepare young people to take their places as happy, healthy, useful and well-adjusted citizens in a society of tomorrow. The fundamental task is the same in war or in peace.

The quality of education in C.H.S. has been highly commended by the North Central Association, the National Association of Secondary Principals, the National Educational Association and by many foundations and universities. Our level of achievement is far above that of the state and national averages. This high attainment is due to the valuable cooperation of the students, the faculty, and the administration.

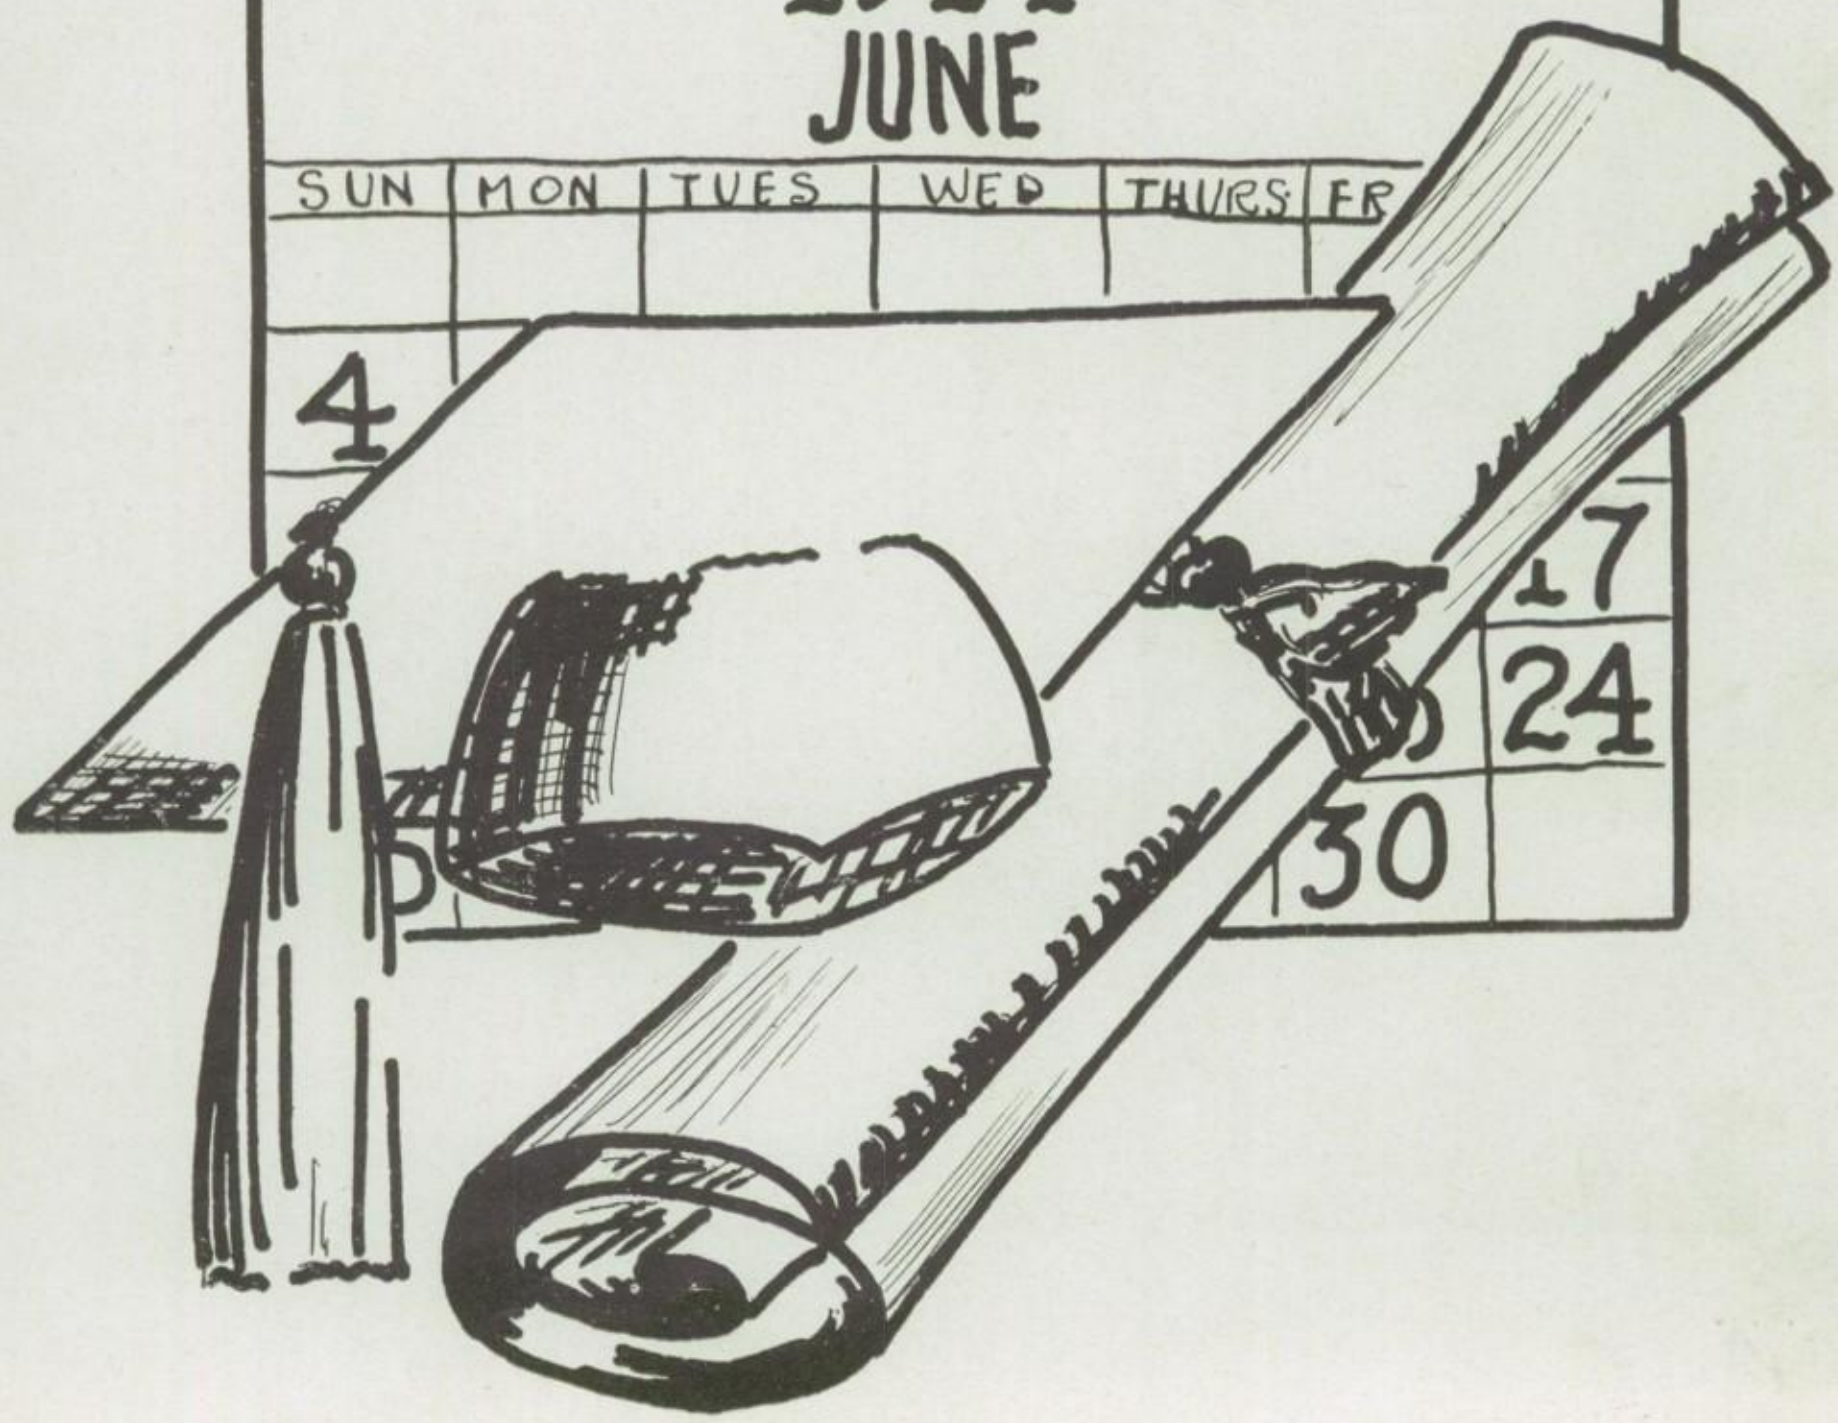

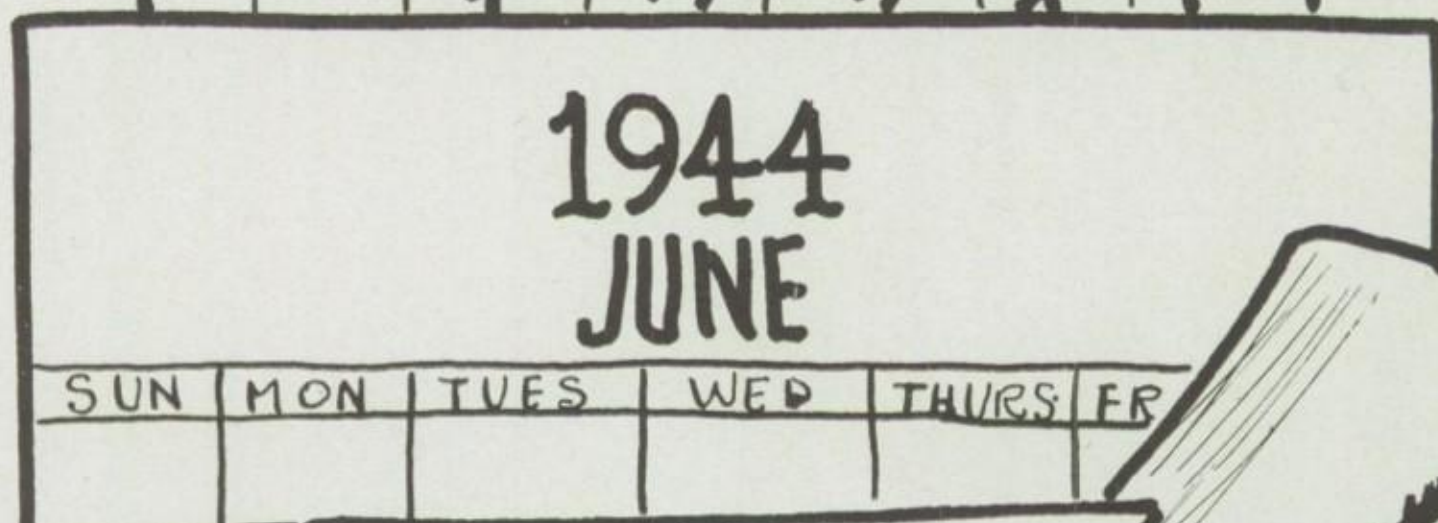

In order for a civilization to live, it must develop and progress. "To preserve it is to destroy it." Therefore, C.H.S. stresses a broad cultural curriculum and activities program through which students may find experiences to prepare them in the basic fundamentals of knowledge, skills, personality, mentality and understanding. Through this development our students can square their shoulders and look to a well-regulated future with a clear vision of expected happiness.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

"Hi, freshie. The home ec room? That's that room right off the gym, down the steps and to your left. Yeah, that's a queer place for it, but just trust us, freshie."

And we did. Consequently, we gave ourselves a few embarrassing moments' such as walking into the pool. Then, too, the class of 1944 came in the "rugged way" with drinking fountains, lipstick, rolled-up trousers, and "Wanna ride, freshie?"

Before our warm welcome at Clinton high, the class of '44 had elected Richard Cosgrove as president. Edgar Jones, Mary K. Iversen, Jacqueline Justis and William Andrews were already known as the class brains. As an indication of what they could do, the freshmen presented "There's Always Buford." Leading roles were taken by Joan Hammer, Verne Madsen, Robert Woods, and Marjorie Bowersox. In the same mass meeting Joan Lee, Robert Cavanaugh, and Donald Torr showed what good dancers our class could boast.

Carol Saxton was freshman attendant to the queen in our biggest Homecoming. That was the year of the pageant "On Our Way," in which many members of the class took part, and Mr. Okey made his C.H.S. debut.

Many remember parties at the "Barn," the melodramas that the boys put on for floor shows, nights at the library feverishly assembling data for debates in "Hop" Findley's social science classes, and the "plant for Mrs. J. D. Van Whipplebottom," which left the assembly in stitches. When it came to sports, we were represented by Bob Gill, "Brownie" Brown, and Dwight Price.

Sophomore year proved the usual anti-climax, after all the fuss made over us as freshmen. We were not the forgotten class for long, as our part in "Cornzapoppin" put us back in the limelight. When the football season rolled around, we elected Merna Hall as our football attendant. "Mert" was also Homecoming and Gateway Classic attendant that year. A never-to-be-forgotten event was the faculty-varsity basketball game, where Mr. Koestler's white shorts were the hit of the evening. That was the year we lost Don and "Minnie" Torr to St. Louis.

Then came junior year and the thrill of being upperclassmen. President J. C. (Junior Carnival) Munson was the man of the hour, and the Carnival and the Prom were the big events for us. Keith Brown and Janis Gumstrup were elected king and queen of both Carnival and Prom. The Prom attendants were Joan Hammer and Dick Cosgrove, Joan Cahill and David Townsend, Betty Weinbeck and Verne Madsen, and Joan Lee and Dwight Price.

Verne Madsen played the lead in a school play, "Ever Since Eve," and "Benny" Bendixen, Bob Woods, Joan Hammer, and Joan Lee had important parts. BBB (Big Beautiful Brute) Dick Triplett left us for the navy that year.

Before we realized it, we were seniors, weighted down with responsibilities and that "last time" feeling about everything—Homecoming, with Rosalie Jost as queen and Janis Grumstrup as senior attendant, the last football game, the last basketball game. "Brownie," Price, and Hofacre were still the athletic stars. Dave Kirkman now dismissed us to fourth hour classes or to lunch if we were lucky. The D.A.R. and "Citizen of Tomorrow" awards went to Elsie Payson and Carol Saxton. Phil Feddersen, class president, supervised the sponsoring of the Gateway classic dance and bond raffle to raise funds for a class gift. Queen of the Classic was "Grumpy" with Bobbette Wagoner, a newcomer in our junior year, as senior attendant.

The majority of the class held jobs outside of school and had less time than the traditional carefree high school youth for social life and extracurricular activity. The class of '44 isn't being graduated in a rosy glow of idealistic hopes and vague illusive dreams. As far ahead as we can see, there's nothing but hard work and responsibility and sacrifice, particularly for the boys. But, we don't find it too depressing, for there's inspiration to be gained from the responsibility in our hands. Then, we have a host of memories, poignant as such memories are, of good times, good friends, lessons learned not from books alone, and we have the proud feeling of having taken from and having contributed to a great school.

Cabinet

Row Two — Philip Kirkman, Leo Herkelmann, Miss Ruth Ebersole, F. H. LePrevost, Martin Nathanson.

Row One — Miss Mercedes Abraham, Miss Mary East, David Kirkman, Verne Madsen, Robert Woods, Carol Saxton, Marian Work.

Court

Row Two — Bernhart Oyaas, Robert Woods, Thomas Rich, Howard Wegener.

Row One — Betty Williams, Miss Edith Birkett, Ednabelle Drury.

The main work of the Supreme Court is to pass judgment on bills that the Senate has passed. General functions are to give trial to students who have joined too many clubs and also to those whom monitors have reported for disobeying laws.

The legislative power of student government is vested in the Senate. David Kirkman is president; Verne Madsen, vice president; Carol Saxton, secretary of state; Marian Work, secretary of treasury; Robert Woods, attorney general.

Also in the Senate are the four class presidents, the four vice presidents, and six senators from each class, who are selected by their classes.

Senate established the activity calendar for the year and supervised class and Senate elections of the Homecoming and Gateway Classic queens, and managed all Homecoming activities. Club membership was listed, and the number of student activities was controlled by this survey. Noon movies, records for noon dancing, and P.A.W. programs were selected by the Senate. Charters were issued to two new clubs after examination and approval of the constitutions submitted.

Membership and transportation for student delegations to attend the Rock Island, Maquoketa, and DeWitt conferences were planned. Five war projects were carried out. During the Junior Red Cross membership drive, $63.48 was collected, and in the Senior drive, $199.54 was collected. Senate sponsored two drives to collect magazines for Schick General Hospital as well as a paper salvage drive. Programs were presented to promote the sale of bonds and stamps. The Thanksgiving offering of $100 was presented to the Benevolent Society.

These committees aid in the administration of the activity program: Executive Cabinet, Committee on Elections, General War Projects, Activity Membership Control Victory Stamp Promotion, Building and Grounds, New Projects, General Activity Control, Student Affairs, Honor Award Administration, Assembly Program Committee, Noon Hour Functions, and Charter Committee. Senate advisers guide the work of each committee.

Membership of the Monitors' club decreased from fifty-four in first semester to thirty-four in second semester because hall conditions improved.

Monitors have assisted in keeping halls quiet and orderly during class periods, have enforced rules during lunch periods, and have assisted visitors who have been in the building.

Club officers are Eugene Burlingame, president; Eugene Petersen, vice president; Jack Reed, secretary-treasurer. The club meets only when it is necessary, under the sponsorship of Miss Lois Bair.

To join Monitors' club, students must have passing grades, and they must be good citizens. They must also be capable of handling students tactfully and be cooperative with all teachers.

First girls' glee club meets Tuesday and Thursday during second hour. Membership comes through participation in freshman choir or by tryouts. Appearances included the junior class play, an assembly at Christmas, the spring concert and commencement.

Second girls' glee club meets every Tuesday and Thursday during first hour. Members were selected from last year's freshman choir, and the only appearance was in the spring concert.

Senior choir is the largest vocal music group. Any sophomore desiring admittance is recommended from freshman choir. Others are admitted through tryouts at the first of the year. Appearances included the Christmas program at Rotary, an Easter assembly, the spring concert, commencement, and baccalaureate. To make money, the choir ran concessions at football and basketball games.

The officers of choir are John Munson, business manager; JoAnne Bliesmer, librarian; Howard Wegener, assistant librarian; and Marian Work, secretary.

The freshman sextette was picked through tryouts. It appeared in such programs as the Jefferson P.T.A., the U.S.O.

broadcast, the freshman dance, Longfellow school carnival, and the spring concert.

Freshman chorus members were recommended from eighth grade classes. The group appeared in the spring concert.

The freshman special chorus was selected from the larger group and practiced twice a week before school. The appearances were Education Week assembly, spring concert, and eighth grade visitation.

Admittance to the upperclass girls' sextette was through tryouts. Members are Gloria Justis and Joyce Petersen, first sopranos; Betty Weinbeck and Nancy Petersen, second sopranos; and Jacqueline Justis and Carol Wagner, altos.

Under the direction of Miss Dorothy Griewe, the group appeared in a navy day program, October 27; Education Week assembly, November 10; Clinton Teachers' association party, December 9; at Rotary program December 13; Latin club, December 15; Longfellow school carnival, February 4; P.E.O., February 14; student assembly, February 18; U.S.O. program, February 20; Presbyterian church circle, February 23; student assembly, March 3; Franklin school P.T.A., March 21; spring concert, March 24; and Pan American assembly, April 14.

ORCHESTRA

Under the direction of Miss Kathryn Hetzel, the orchestra furnished most of the program at the String Festival in May. Numbers were "Light Cavalry" by Suppe, "Agnus Dei" by Bizet, "Suite" by Von Weber, "Ballet Music" from "Rosamunde" by Schubert, "Tales from the Vienna Woods" by Strauss, "Army Air Corps Song", and "Perpetual Motion" by Carl Bohn.

Other appearances included playing for Parents' Visitation day, the junior class play, an assembly program, and baccalaureate.

A point system was formulated for awarding letters. Points are given on the basis of conduct, public performances, private lessons, amount of practice done, string ensemble and solo work, and assisting the director. A thousand points are required for a letter.

Those who received letters were Warren Anderson, Jerome Bertramsen, Marjorie Bowersox, Charles Bickert, Gordon Carroll, Laura Fries, Jacqueline Krebs, Elmer Frimoth, Chester Cole, Ella Mae Ludwig, and Richard Woodard.

A violin quartet was organized composed of Mary Jane Kroigard, Donna Oliver, Doris Cozzens, and Joan Heath. The quartet played at the U. S. O. and at several performances with the orchestra.

Richard Woodard, Marjorie Bowersox, Chester Cole, and Warren Anderson conducted numbers in performances.

The officers are Marjorie Bowersox, president; Mary Jane Kroigard, vice president; Donna Oliver, secretary-treasurer.

Top: Verne Madsen, Betty Weinbeck, Mary K. Iversen, Joan Hammer, Mary Ellen Paysen, Doris Vaged, Jacqueline Justis.
Front: Janis Grumstrup, Carol Saxton, Joan Cahill, Frances Reade, Carol Wagner, Marilyn Thomas, Bonnie Gobble.

Candidates for Quill and Scroll may be selected from the staff of either newspaper or yearbook. They must be juniors or seniors and must have done superior work in writing, editing, or business management. They must be recommended by the adviser and approved by the executive secretary of the national society.

In Clinton High, a hundred inches of printed material has been considered the initial requirements for the newspaper group. Applicants must be in the upper third of their class, scholastically.

The main project this year has been to continue the servicemen's honor roll, started in 1943.

The first meeting was held in November at the home of the president, and later meetings were at school during home room. A tea was held May 26.

Joan Cahill, is president; Betty Weinbeck, vice president; Mary K. Iversen, secretary; Joanne Sutthoff, treasurer.

Verne Madsen, editor, worked on photography, the layout, the senior section, the theme, and general supervision. David Smith, business manager, sold space for advertising and organized the sports section. Carol Saxton worked on the senior section and the class history. Betty Weinbeck served as faculty editor. Mary K. Iversen helped on the senior section. Ann Kiel and Marilyn Thomas sized and mounted pictures and wrote articles for the clubs. Patricia Farley also wrote articles for clubs. "Bud" Frimoth and Ray Nissen took snapshots. Individual pictures and many groups were taken by commercial photographers, but L. A. Huber did several group shots for the staff as a courtesy. All those who could type helped with that, and everyone checked the spelling of names.

The staff did not have any scheduled time for meeting but worked in free periods, before and after school, and on Saturdays.

The theme selected was "time" as represented by the hourglass to show the pressure of time in 1944. Art students submitted designs, and those by Russell McCreery, Jaclyn Finch, and Betty Rosenberger were chosen for division pages.

Government restriction on film caused the most trouble for the staff, according to Miss Blackburn, adviser.

Annual

"The Clintonian" is published bi-weekly by a group of experienced reporters assisted by the journalism class. Each group numbered about fifteen.

Ted Renkes and Doris Vaged collected advertising copy during second semester, while Elizabeth Marshall and Frances Reade collected money for it. Carrier boys who served longest were James Mead and Jack Klopp. Phyllis Dierks helped address mailing slips for a time. Betty Lou Williams, Lois Claussen, Bill Kruse, and Bill Northcutt assisted on the business staff during first semester.

Advanced reporters were Joan Cahill, Mary K. Iversen, who did Clinton Herald items also, Frances Reade, Betty Weinbeck, Lois Claussen, Ray Moritzen, Verne Madsen, and Mary Ellen Paysen.

In the journalism class were Chet Cole, Gene Evers, Bonnie Gobble, Jacqueline Espey, John Ives, Norma Ketelsen, Margaret Leland, Elizabeth Marshall, Elaine Ogden, Lorella Petrehn, Marian Salzer, Lynn Shaff, Marie Thomas, Carol Wagner, and Darlyne Wells.

Sixteen issues were published including special color editions at Christmas, St. Patrick's Day, and graduation. Cuts were used at intervals.

Papers were distributed by mail and by carrier to all advertisers, and the business manager assisted the adviser, Miss Eunice Blackburn, in sending out bills and in keeping financial records. The advertising staff sold contracts last August, putting out a free edition of the paper on the first day of school. About sixty papers have been mailed each issue to other schools and to servicemen. About forty students who did not have activity tickets subscribed for the paper. The bi-weekly did not receive any money from the activity fund, however, but paid its way through advertising and special subscription.

To be admitted into Pep club, a girl must have an "M" average and must pass tests in posture and marching ability.

The club now has forty-two members of whom eighteen are seniors, seventeen are juniors, and seven, sophomores. The club for next year will have thirty-six members. Thirty-two will march at every drill, and there will be four substitutes from the new members.

Pep club is organized to foster school morale. A group of yell leaders, who wear Pep club slacks and red sweaters, direct a cheering section of the student body. Girls selected must have ability in tumbling and be graceful. The yell leaders are Betty Lou Williams, Patricia Farley, JoAnne Wiedman, and Marjorie Holgaard.

The girls marched for the spring opening, for basketball and football games, and at a basketball game in Davenport. They sponsored a formal dance, the Ball of the Roses, May 12, with parents of the officers as chaperones.

The officers are Janis Grumstrup, president; Bonnie Ann Gobble, vice president; and Joan Cahill, secretary-treasurer.

New members admitted this spring are Kathryn Leshner and Lucile Dellit, juniors; Beverly Wagner, Gloria Justis, Kathleen Bentson, sophomores; Anne Saxton, Janice Root, Gloria Swanson, Jane Burlingame, Carol Maurek, Beverly Hall, and Nancy Knudsen, freshmen.

Student Club is a twenty-three year old organization that is a branch of the Girl Reserves of the Y. W. C. A. 333 girls joined during 1943-44, and all high school girls are invited to belong. Membership summary includes 72 seniors, 79 juniors, 79 sophomores and 103 freshmen. Meetings are held every second and fourth Thursdays and cabinet meetings once a month.

Officers are Laurretta Meyer, president; Phyllis Broadwater, vice-president; Joyce Petersen, secretary; Bonnie Ann Gobble, treasurer; and Miss Nellie Jones, sponsor.

The group leaders are Dolores McManus and Annajean Nielsen, dramatics, for semester one and two respectively; Nancy Petersen, music; Rosalie Jost, ring; Beverly Monkton, social; Lois Shepard, finance; Arlene Hoffman and Frances Reade, crafts; Mary Louise Bendixen, program; Annajean Nielsen, and Pearl Cromer, publicity, semester one and two respectively.

Kathryn Leshner is reporter; class representatives are Lynette Gilbert, senior; JoAnne Bliesmer, junior; Kathryn Abshire, sophomore; and Ednabelle Drury, freshman.

A series of school programs, keyed to the psychology of the teen-age girl, was carried throughout the year. Topics that seemed to win the most appreciation were "The Teen-Ager Looks at Juvenile Delinquency," "The High School Girl and Inflation," or "Where Does My Money Go?" "How Is Your Educational Balance?" "By Different Boats," and "What Do High School Girls Think About High School Boys."

On October 16, Clinton and Lyons High School Student Clubs entertained the girls of the Illowa Conference. Seventy-five girls from Dubuque, Moline, Davenport, Rock Island, Sterling, Rock Falls, and Muscatine attended.

During a joint meeting of Bachelors' Club, Hi-Y, and Student Club, May 11, a report was made on the results of the April 27 questionnaire, "Boy-Girl Relationships."

Dramatic and music groups presented "Told in All Tongues" at the Y. W. C. A., December 9. The annual "Hanging of the Greens" program was also December 9.

Laurretta Meyer, 1943-44 president, was sent to the State Conference at the Boone, Iowa, Y. W. C. A. Camp, June 16-23, 1943.

The annual Student Club and Hi-Y worship service with Reverend R. J. Danelson was December 17, and with Reverend Harry Harned as speaker, April 5, 1944.

A talent program with music and a one-act play was presented April 21, in the assembly. Three boy-girl dances, "The Snow Ball," December 17, the valentine dance, February 4, and the "Tulip Turnout," April 28, were given by the girls at the Y. W. C. A.

Older members of the club assist in managing the "Deep Sea Dive" or milkbar project at the Y. W. C. A. Bachelors' Club and Student Club united in a Christmas project, sending several boxes of clothing and toys to needy children in the southwest Kentucky Mountain area.

Hi-Y is pledged to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and the community high standards of Christian character.

Alpha, first chapter to be organized in Clinton high, meets each Wednesday night at the Y. Activities included helping in the Christmas and Easter worship services, cooperating with the "Deep Sea Dive," helping at the Sustaining Wings Canteen at the railroad station, assisting in the city-wide Father-Son banquet, and aiding with parties for grade school boys. David Kirkman appeared in the Easter service.

Officers of Alpha are Robert Woods, president; John Munson, vice president; Richard Anderson, secretary; Philip Kirkman, treasurer; James McCullough, chaplain; and Dr. R. A. Emmons, sponsor.

Beta, sponsored by Leo Herkelmann, meets each Tuesday of every week. This group cooperated with the others in securing Reverend Hamil as speaker at an evening meeting and helped with the Father-Son banquet. Social activities were dances and hayrides.

Officers of Beta are Phil Feddersen, president; Ray Schumacher, vice president; Charles Bickert, secretary; Joseph Olson, treasurer; and Leonard Lewis, chaplain.

Freshman Hi-Y is organized primarily as a "feeder unit" for the older clubs. Bruce Edson, boys' work secretary and first sponsor of the club, was called to navy service in February, and F. H. LePrevost, who was then secured as sponsor, became subject to call after March 25. The "frosh" group carried out personal projects but also took part in the Y program at Christmas and Easter with Jack Klopp and Ralph McLarnen giving the invocations.

Officers are David Bonebrake, president; Robert Fitch, vice president; Jack Klopp, secretary; Neale Adair, treasurer; and John Holmes, chaplain.

Kappa held meetings every second and fourth Tuesday of the month at the Y. With Alpha, the group formed a basketball team known as the Kalphakats which entered the Y tournament and ended third in an eight-team league. The club sponsored a picnic for all the chapters.

Verne Madsen and Lloyd Jackson were selected to represent Kappa on the Hi-Y council which makes the rules and regulations for all chapters. Others in the council were Robert Woods, Frank Dippo, Phil Feddersen, and Ray Schumacher.

Officers of Kappa were Verne Madsen, president; Lloyd Jackson, vice president; Ted Renkes, secretary-treasurer; William Northcutt, chaplain, and Clarence Biel, sponsor.

"C" club is open to those boys who win a major letter in any sport. Its purpose is to further good clean athletics and sportsmanship in the school and the community.

Requirements for membership vary for each varsity sport. These are standard from year to year and are set up to suit the sport. Football and basketball require that a boy must play in at least half the quarters of the games played.

Keith Brown, Dwight Price, Phil Feddersen, and Dean Burrige became members previous to this year. New members this year were initiated in a mass meeting, May 19.

The chief activities dealt with ushering at basketball games and at the Iowa State District basketball tournament and running concessions at the tournament.

The club's sponsor is Coach Joe Schneider, and the officers are Elmer "Bud" Frimoth, president; Dwight Price, vice president; and Keith Brown, secretary-treasurer.

Members of Bachelors' club meet every second and fourth Thursday of each month. Miss Isabelle Streib is sponsor. The purpose is to foster self-improvement and to assist in building and developing personalities.

Officers are Dwight Price, president; Richard Pike, vice president; Charles Bickert, secretary-treasurer; Donald Reusche, Russell McCreery, Robert Cavanaugh, Conrad Bonebrake, and William Cornish, members of the executive board.

The main activities have been assisting Sustaining Wings Canteen at the Clinton railroad station and aiding in the collection of old clothes for needy boys and girls in a Kentucky mountain school. The boys also served at the Kiwanis football banquet, December 2, the Hi-Y Father-Son banquet, February 16, and cooperated with Student club on a questionnaire concerning boy and girl relationships. Reverend Robert McDanel was the guest speaker at the club's dinner, March 31, which was followed by a dance in the gymnasium.

Girls' Athletic association, sponsored by Miss Dorothy Seeser, is organized to further the interests of girls' athletics.

Freshmen and sophomores meet every Wednesday night, while the upperclass girls meet every Friday night. The group sponsored "The Spinsters' Spree" as a Red Cross benefit dance, held a scavenger hunt for members, and an award night with mothers as guests.

Awards requiring 500 points were given to Joanne Bennett, Lucille Bierman, Mary Lou Farr, Bonnie Gobble, Eleanor Greenlee, Gloriana Hink, Jolee Rolston, Norma Sims, Betty Speakman, June Swanson, Jane Dierksen, Patricia DeMoss, and Marilyn Schultz.

State pins which require a thousand points were won by Jane Dierksen, Beverly Monkton, and Lynette Gilbert.

Members selected Jacqueline Eberhardt as the most athletic and Beverly Monkton as the best sportsman.

Officers are Jacqueline Eberhardt, president; June Swanson, vice president; Patricia DeMoss, secretary-treasurer.

Sports heads are Joan Cahill, archery; Mary Lou Wilson, basketball; Beverly Monkton, bowling; Frances Sipes, hockey; Bonnie Gobble, pingpong; Norma Sims, basketball; Patricia Farley, swimming; and Gloria Sanderson, volleyball.

Little Theater

Row Three—David Townsend, Bob Woods, Eugene Petersen, Verne Madsen, Dick Husmann, Howard Wegener, John Ives, Raymond Graham.

Row Two—Doris Hinrichsen, Frances Briggs, Mary Louise Bendixen, Lynn Shaff, Jaelyn Fitch, Kathryn Lesher, Dorothy Thorsen, Helen White, Joan Hammer.

Row One—Marjorie Bowersox, Jeanne Shannon, Miss Hansen, Doris Cozzens, Lorraine Volckman, Joan Lee, Carol Wagner, Betty Lou Williams.

The purpose of Little Theater is to (1) enable students to develop a keener appreciation of good drama and good acting by the means of reading, lectures, participation, and observation; (2) to afford opportunities for developing natural ability through work in well-organized, carefully directed, and finished dramatic productions; (3) to encourage a spirit of cooperation and a sense of responsibility through activity as a cast member or crew member; and (4) to help the war effort.

Membership is divided into two groups, pledges and actives. Pledges must have from three to twelve points; actives must have twelve or more points. The points are earned by being in productions.

The regular meetings have followed a definite program. The members studied the Russian, French, Scandinavian, English, and American theaters.

Little Theater produced five skits for assembly programs, gave three radio broadcasts, a one-act play for Schick hospital, a one-act play for the Odd Fellows lodge, a one-act play for the P.E.O., and a minstrel show for the school.

The officers are Verne Madsen, president; Howard Wegener, vice president; Mary L. Bendixen, secretary-treasurer.

A Minstrel Show, sponsored by Little Theater, was presented to an audience of junior high students in the afternoon and to high school and adults in the evening, February 8.

David Kirkman was the interlocutor, while Richard Tingleff, John Munson, Jack Gardner, Robert Warner, Conrad Bonebrake, and William Clancy were the black-faced comedians.

"The Four Dazzling Damsels," who were Lila Hofacre, Darlyne Wells, Patricia Coombs, and Shirley Haring, sang "Don't Be What You Ain't" and danced with the end men.

A brass quartet, composed of Jerome Bertramsen, Robert Valett, Dale Ventres, and Cecil Kearns, played. Jaclyn Fitch as Madame Carlotta, told fortunes with a crystal ball, and Ruth Dale sang and twirled batons. Richard Tingleff and Jack Gardner sang "Da Lord He Thought He'd Make a Man," and Helen White, announced as "la senorita" sang. "The Korntet" composed of John Munson, Verne Madsen, David Smith, and Lloyd Jackson sang. Mary Louise Leshner, billed as "La Zonga" gave a dance number.

A Harlequinade play in which Richard Lake, John Ives, Marjorie Bowersox, Jeanne Shannon, and Donald Wilson took parts, came as the third part.

As a grand finale, all the cast appeared, singing the Loyalty Song, Alma Mater song, and "God Bless America." Robert Cavenagh gave a short tap dance, too.

Little Theater collected about $180 from the performances.

"Letters to Lucerne" was presented December 9 by the junior class under the direction of Miss Beatrice Hansen.

Jaclyn Fitch, Kathryn Leshner, Helen White, Elizabeth Marshall, Lorraine Volckman, and Carol Wagner represented girls of different nationalities who are going to a boarding school in Lucerne, Switzerland. It is the custom of the girls to read aloud their letters from home. When the war breaks out, Miss Hunter, played by Lynn Shaff, tries to keep the school isolated, but the letters cause hard feeling among the girls.

Gretchen Linder, a German-born teacher in the school, was played by Dorothy Thorsen. Margarethe, the cook, and Gustav, the houseman, were portrayed by Doris Cozzens and Howard Wegener. Gene Evers, as Hans, had the part of a German pilot who fell in love with the Russian girl. Eugene Petersen took the part of a policeman.

Student Pan-American league is a national organization pledged to promote better relationship between Latin American countries and the United States.

Members correspond with students in these countries and thus learn more about their language and customs. Many students are corresponding with young people in the larger cities of Mexico because the war has shortened the list of those who wish to write, and letters from Argentina and Chile may not arrive for six weeks or two months. Letters sent to these two countries by air mail cost about forty-five cents. When a letter is received by a club member, a white flag is pinned on a map to show the location that it represents.

An assembly was presented on Pan-Americanism, April 14, at which three Mexicans, who had been studying English in night school while working in the railroad shops, played and sang. There was a quiz on South America, and the whole assembly sang popular songs in Spanish.

At the regular meetings of the club, the general plan is to hear travelers tell of trips to parts of Central and South America. Some of the speakers were Miss Jean Sutherland, who talked about a trip to South America, and Miss Mary East, who reviewed a trip to Cuba and Panama.

The club had a Spanish banquet, serving appropriate foods. Mr. Earl Meyers lectured on Mexico and showed colored films on towns of northern Mexico.

Officers are Marilyn Junge, president; Lloyd Stoik, vice president; Nancy Petersen, secretary; Gordon Carroll, treasurer. Misses Edith Bach and Marie Hartmann, Spanish instructors, are sponsors.

Latin club meets every third Wednesday to promote student interest in classic literature and to add to the cultural background of Latin students.

Membership is open to anyone taking Latin or to anyone who has had a year of Latin.

The members enjoyed a review of a trip to Pompeii, Italy, by Mrs. A. L. Fedderson. She described the streets and the type of material used in building. Mrs. George Morden gave a book review of "The Apostle" at the annual banquet, February 29. For the banquet, the members dressed as Romans, ate as Romans without forks and knives, and served the kind of food that Romans ate. As part of the program, a scene from a Roman wedding was acted by members of the club and Latin songs were sung.

Latin club sponsored the movie "Cleopatra" starring Claudette Colbert and Warren Williams to which all students of Clinton high school and their parents were invited.

The officers are Don DeSirey and Betty Duffy (consuls), co-presidents; Walter McMahon (quaestor), treasurer; and Ted Renkes (scriba), secretary. Miss Edith Bach, Latin instructor, is the sponsor.

Row Three—Fred Suter, Curtis Greene, Robert Fitch, John Lorenz, Marjorie Holgaard, Lois Grill, Doris Hinrichsen, Jane Butzback, Diane LaBatt, Jean Hammerand.

Row Two—Doris Faur, Patricia Hofacre, Nancy Knudsen, Marilyn Boekel, Mary Ellen Jones, Janet Schmitz, Janice Root, Anne Saxton, Carol Maurek, Janet Henderson.

The '43 squad seemed to have plenty of talent, and the last three games showed that it was sometimes used in the right places. Coach Dardis and Coach Schneider succeeded in organizing a workable team before the season closed.

Dean Burrridge played fine ball all year. Bob Vogel, Reed, Schroeder, Jensen, and Petersen all did well, while Hofacre really tore up the turf in the last games. His speed and Burrridge's driving power made a good offensive team. Dwight Price and "Bud" Frimoth really kept that line together, and with "Fuzz" Feddersen as center and "Red" Lutz and Gene Burlingame at ends, Clinton had the beginning of a good line. Olson and Stoik filled the guard positions capably.

Burrridge and Price received third and second team ranking respectively in the Iowa newspapermen's football poll.

Letter winners were Jack Reed, Larry Petersen, Bob Vogel, Dean Burrridge, Lee Hofacre, Elmer Frimoth, Ray Schumacher, Dave Baldwin, Harlan Bartels, Bill Jensen, Lloyd Stoik, Dwight Price, Harold Lutz, Gene Evers, Keith Brown, Gene Burlingame, Joe Olson, Philip Feddersen, and Joseph Bartz.

Varsity Football

The '43 River Kings came to life slowly but surely as proved by a final three-game winning streak. The climax came with the defeat of the Dubuque Rams, Valley loop champs, while the Red and Black was almost at the bottom of the league.

The first game of the season ended 33-0 with the Kewanee Boilermakers on the upper end. The loss of Keith Brown seemed to set the team back, and the revamped backfield just couldn't click.

Iowa City downed the Kings, 13-6, on Coan field in a close exciting game. Fumbles seemed to predominate, but the crowd saw some beautiful running by Dean Burrridge, sophomore.

Captain Dwight Price and "Pat" Stoik spurred the team in the game against Franklin high, but the Cedar Rapids eleven was too strong and rolled up 13 to 0.

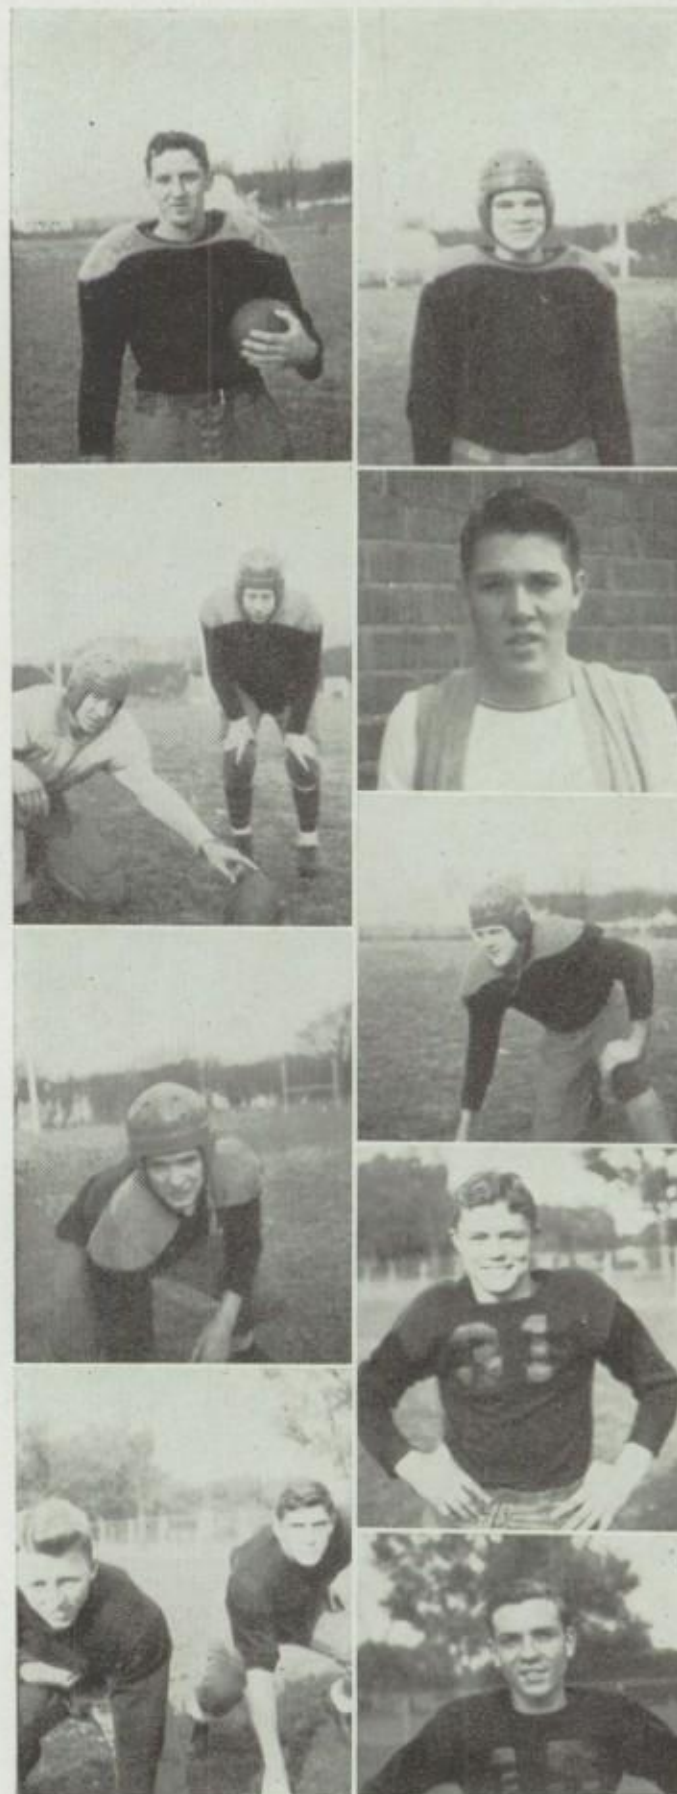

McKinley's passing set Clinton back with the fourth defeat of the season, but the squad really played ball that night and the score was 13-8.

October 8 proved a bad date for Clinton. The Davenport team dealt the Kings a stinging defeat, 20-6, although Mike's men seemed to outplay them on every front.

The season ended with three victories. Homecoming was the first win, with the downing of Roosevelt, 19-6. Sterling's upset by 25-6 primed the attack on Dubuque. Hofacre, Vogel, and Lutz scored early in the game, and the whole team took a staunch stand to hold the Rams up to the last few minutes. The game ended with Clinton battering its way into scoring territory again, and the score was 18-12.

Ten seniors saw their last high school game versus Dubuque. They were Hofacre, Price, Olson, Frimoth, Feddersen, Carroll, Mason, Gassman, Stewart, and Bartz. Keith Brown should be included as he proved a faithful though inactive member of the team after an appendectomy took him from competition.

Varsity Football

In the line there was a definite improvement. Gene Burlingame and Lutz on the ends, Price and Frimoth at tackle, Olson and Price at guards, and Feddersen over the ball—that was the usual line-up. All but Burlingame and Lutz graduate, but some good boys are coming up, as Dave Baldwin and Gene Evers.

The whole team deserves mention. The back-field centered around Burridge. Hofacre, Bob Vogel, Reed, Ray Schumacher, Larry Petersen, and Jensen completed the group. Hofacre is the only loss through graduation.

The biggest loss of the season was Coach Dardis, who resigned, with the best wishes of the boys who thought he was a grand fellow and a fine coach.

The sophomores with a .500 average did just a bit better than the varsity. The Little Imps defeated them, 33-6, but the lights struck at Fulton with a 19-5 score. DeWitt's heavy varsity was held to a 6-6 tie.

Coach Mike Dardis, with Coach Joe Schneider assisting, developed in the River King squad a smart, hard-hitting, fast team. The season was slow in starting but ended in fine shape.

Coach Dardis was an outstanding athlete at Milford high and Buena Vista college. His Mediapolis and Lyons teams were among the best in the section in their classes. Coach Dardis left to teach in Sudlow school in Davenport after football season.

Coach Schneider starred at Washington high and Coe college, in football, basketball, baseball, and track. He came to Clinton in 1937 and has coached for six years. This year he is quitting teaching, and, along with Coach Dardis, everyone wishes him all the luck and success in the world.

Managers Albert King and Connie Bonebrake had a job that is a lot of aches and pains, but they stuck with it and saw that the gridders were one of the best equipped and managed teams in the conference.

Varsity basketball was headed by Coach Joseph Schneider this year. Joe's boys met an early barrage of defeats but found the basket and finished the season with fourteen wins to seven loses, giving themselves a percentage of .667. The team was second only to Davenport in the Mississippi Valley conference.

The team made a total of 734 points to their opponents 663 and averaged 34.95 points per game.

Mainstays on the team included Dwight Price, center; "Bud" Frimoth and Gene Burlingame, guards; and Keith Brown and Dean Burridge, forwards. Ed Jones, Jack Reed, Bob Vogel, Bill Jensen, and Jack Dunmore also contributed to the success.

Varsity Basketball

Dean Burridge was the pacesetter, making 203 of the team's points. Burridge tied as fourth high pointmaker in the Mississippi Valley conference and was given an honorable mention in the Des Moines Register's all-state group, as were Dwight Price and Gene Burlingame. Burridge was the city's second high scorer, averaging 9.67 per game.

Dwight Price sparked the group from his pivot position and ranked second on the school's scoring chart. Price, who was excellent on rebounding and in leading a fast break, made a total of 157 points averaging 8.72 per game.

Keith Brown, captain of the team, started the season as a guard but was changed into a forward position where he consistently scored. He tallied 138 points and averaged 6.57 per game.

"Bud" Frimoth was a real addition, with his defensive playing and rebound work. Frimoth made 64 points and averaged 3.37 per game, while Gene Burlingame, the other regular guard, totaled 56 points and averaged 2.80.

Harold Lutz made 14 points, averaging 2.33; Jack Reed, 38 points averaging 2; Jack Dunmore, 27 points; Ed Jones, 20; Larry Petersen, 9; and Bob Vogel, 4.

Varsity letter winners were Keith Brown, Dean Burridge, Jack Reed, Dwight Price, Eugene Burlingame, Elmer Frimoth, Edgar Jones, Robert Vogel, William Jensen, and Jack Dunmore.

The sophomore cagers completed a most successful season under the direction of Coach Leonard Wilson. The team racked up a total of 573 points to their opponents 392 and won fourteen of their sixteen encounters.

Spearheading the sophomore offense were Therol Petersen and Harold Lutz, forwards. Petersen was especially fine with one-handed shots, while Lutz specialized on rebounds. LeRoy Watts played center and scored on pivot shots. Richard Price played an exceptional game from his guard post, keeping opponents from scoring and adding points for his team frequently. Other assets to the lightweights were Leonard Vogel, Ronald Kramer, and Kenny Johnson, all guards. L. V. Schroeder, Gerald Stamp, Gene Hannafan, and Robert Cramm also contributed to a successful season.

Harold Lutz, Therol Petersen, LeRoy Watts, and Richard Price obtained some varsity experience at the close of the season by playing in several of the last games. Lutz placed sixth in the list of Clinton high scorers on the varsity.

Those who received letters are Therol Petersen, Harold Lutz, LeRoy Watts, Dick Price, Ronald Kramer, Leonard Vogel, Joe Haley, Leroy Leslie, L. V. Schroeder, Gene Hannafan, Kenneth Johnson, and Gerald Stamp.

Freshman Basketball

The frosh cagers with Coach LePrevost completed almost as successful a season as the sophomore squad. The team defeated the Goose Lake varsity, the Elvira reserves, and the Lyons frosh, while it lost two thrillers to St. Mary's, a game to the sophomores, one to Fulton, and one to Elvira. The team was also entered in the Y.M.C.A. high school basketball tournament in which it took the first round undefeated, lost one game in the second round, and won the title.

Members of the team included Earl Van Horn and Herbert Boegel, guards; Don Parker, center; and Jim Higgins and Ted Stoik, forwards. High scorers were Higgins and Stoik, who specialized in one-handed shots.

Others offering strong support were Bob Fitch, Dean Pieper, and Jim Long. Bonebrake, Hudson, Steenson, Swanson, Becker, and Kallenbach, though lacking height, also turned in good performances.

Swimming

The Seals completed a highly successful season with a record of fourteen wins out of fifteen meets. Eight states represent the territory covered by Coach Judd's tankmen. Several meets were telegraphic meets, however.

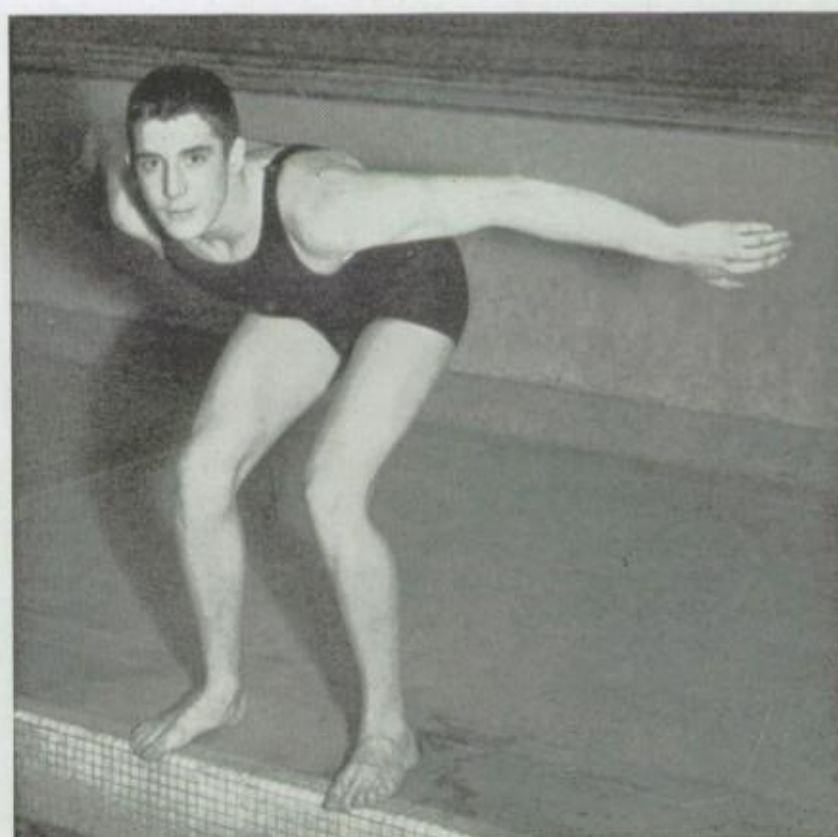

Roosevelt of Des Moines; Roosevelt, St. Louis; Wichita, Kansas; Battle Creek, Michigan; East high, Rockford; Elgin academy, Illinois; Hotchkiss high, Lakeville, Connecticut; and other championship teams were on the list. Roosevelt of Des Moines, holder of the Iowa championship, handed the paddlers their only defeat.

Jack Jowett was the mainstay of the Clinton team. As a sophomore he was top man in the state for the 40 yard free style. This year he had 27 straight wins before bowing to Anderson, national record holder. Edward Howes had a good record with fourteen of fifteen tries in the breast stroke.

Clinton finished third in the state meet, bested by Roosevelt and North high schools of Des Moines. Jowett and Cole followed Anderson in for second and third in the 40 yard free style, Howes captured fifth in the 100 yard breast stroke, Machael rated fourth in the 100 yard backstroke, Jowett made third in the 100 yard free style;

Machael, Howes, and McCreery took second in the 180 yard medley relay; Cole, McCreery, Cady, and Olson got second in the 160 yard free style relay. Others deserving mention are Cady, eighth in the 220; Moldt, seventh in the 220; Olson, 100 yard backstroke; Lake, sixth in the 100 breast stroke; Blackmar, eighth in diving. Leedham qualified for finals in diving but withdrew because of a foot injury.

Pollywogs

Pollywogs has been organized for twenty-three years to further the interest of girls in swimming. The girls swim every Thursday from three to four o'clock.

In order to belong, a girl must pass tests showing ability in the crawl, side stroke, back stroke, breast stroke, and in diving. The newest requirement is to have a Junior or a Senior Lifesaving certificate. Candidates are graded by old members and by Miss Dorothy Seeser, sponsor.

Those passing Senior Lifesaving were Jacqueline Calahan, Eleanor Greenlee, Jacqueline Eberhardt, Ethel Hoover, Ann Kiel, Gloria Justis, Sylvia McDermott, Elaine Ogden, Donna Paysen, Jolee Rolston, and Marian Salzer.

Jane Burlingame, Ednabelle Drury, Faye Ferguson, Patricia Grossman, Jane Hurlburt, Patricia Hofacre, Betty Ingwersen, Mary Ellen Jones, Nancy Knudsen, Jacqueline Kramer, Alicemarie Nielsen, Loreen Melendy, Janet Schmitz, Gloria Swanson, and Evelyn Van Horn passed the Junior Lifesaving.

New members admitted this year are Jane Burlingame, Ednabelle Drury, Patty Grossman, Jane Hurlburt, Betty Ingwersen, Mary Ellen Jones, Carol Maurek, Alicemarie Nielsen, Janice Root, and Evelyn Van Horn.

The officers are Marian Salzer, president; Shirley Grumstrup, vice president; and Ann Kiel, secretary.

Pollywogs sponsored a formal dance, the Pollywog Splash, and gave a potluck supper.

Row Three—Ann Kiel, Elaine Ogden, Patricia De Moss, Marian Salzer, Eleanor Greenlee, Jean Best, Shirley Grumstrup.

Row Two—Miss Dorothy Seeser, Bernice Leonard, Dorothy Swanson, Betty Jane Schneden, Jaclyn Fitch, Beverly Marlowe, Gloria Justis.

Row Two—Gerald Weideman, Kenneth Weaver, David Skonberg, Bernard Cooper, Raymond Stowers, Lloyd Outzen, Edward Zirbes.
Row One—Norman Walsh, James Gassman, Harlan Bartels, Conrad Bonebrake, Clarence Klare, Orville Goddard, Richard Sadler, Mr. Kunz.

Wrestling

Coach Ralph Kunz and his matmen had a tough season this year with only one man placing in the state meet. Connie Bonebrake earned a third in the 118 pound class. Zirbes, Gassman, Bartels, and Gool were defeated in their first matches. They all became eligible for the state meet through winning a first or second in the district meet at Maquoketa.

C.H.S. wrestlers placed first against Maquoketa, 20½-15½, and lost to Davenport, 27-11; Maquoketa, 33½-6½; Rock Island, 29-15; Davenport, 26-13.

In the district, Clinton placed third. One Davenport and one Maquoketa meet were held out of town.

Major letter winners were Conrad Bonebrake, Ed Zirbes, James Gassman, Orville Goddard, Harlan Bartels, Dwain Walters, and Charles Gool.

Minor letters were given to Richard Sadler, Thomas Graham, Jerry Wiedman, and Clarence Klare.

Goddard, Bonebrake, Walters, Gassman, and Gool are all seniors.

Track

The thinclads started the year out with a runner-up rank in the Mississippi Valley conference indoor meet at the University of Iowa fieldhouse, April 1. Davenport finished first with 61½ points to Clinton's 43.

April 6 marked a triangular meet at Davenport which gave the River Kings another second to Davenport's first. The score was 91½ to 71, and Iowa City had 35½. Again on April 22 Davenport finished with 68 points to the Kings' 55. Sterling, Rock Island, and Geneseo followed in that order.

Schneider's men were unofficially the prep title winners at the Drake Relays, April 28-29, where Clinton competed for the first time in six years. Pointmakers were Hofacre and Burlingame with first and second in the 100 yard dash, and Price, second in the football throw, third in the discus, and fourth in the shot put. Lutz made 11 feet for a second in the pole vault. The 440 and 880 yard relay teams both captured firsts with timing of 45.3 and 1:34.4 respectively. Bob Vogel and Ed Jones made up the contingent of seven men.

A dual meet at Rock Island, May 2, resulted in a defeat for Clinton, 100-78. The meet, which was meant to be a triangular, was first called off, but the Kings, after a heavy practice period at home, responded to a rush call.

At the district meet in Marion, the squad took first in a field of eighteen. Clinton's 82½ points were 45 ahead of Lyons, second high. The Kings scored in every event with the 880 yard relay team and Hofacre in the low hurdles breaking the district records in those events.

Clinton bowed to Davenport on the home field in the Gateway Classic clash, 52-11¼/24 to 62¼ points. The team had four firsts and a tie for another. Hofacre took first in the low hurdles and the 220 yard dash; James Burlingame accounted for a first in the broad jump, while the 880 yard relay, composed of Cole, Burlingame, Vogel, and Hofacre, won by 25 yards. Ed Jones tied for first in the high jump.

Other places were made by Lutz in the pole vault and high hurdles, Vogel in the broad jump, Burlingame in the 100 yard dash and 220 yard dash; Price, high jump; Jones, 220 yard low hurdles.

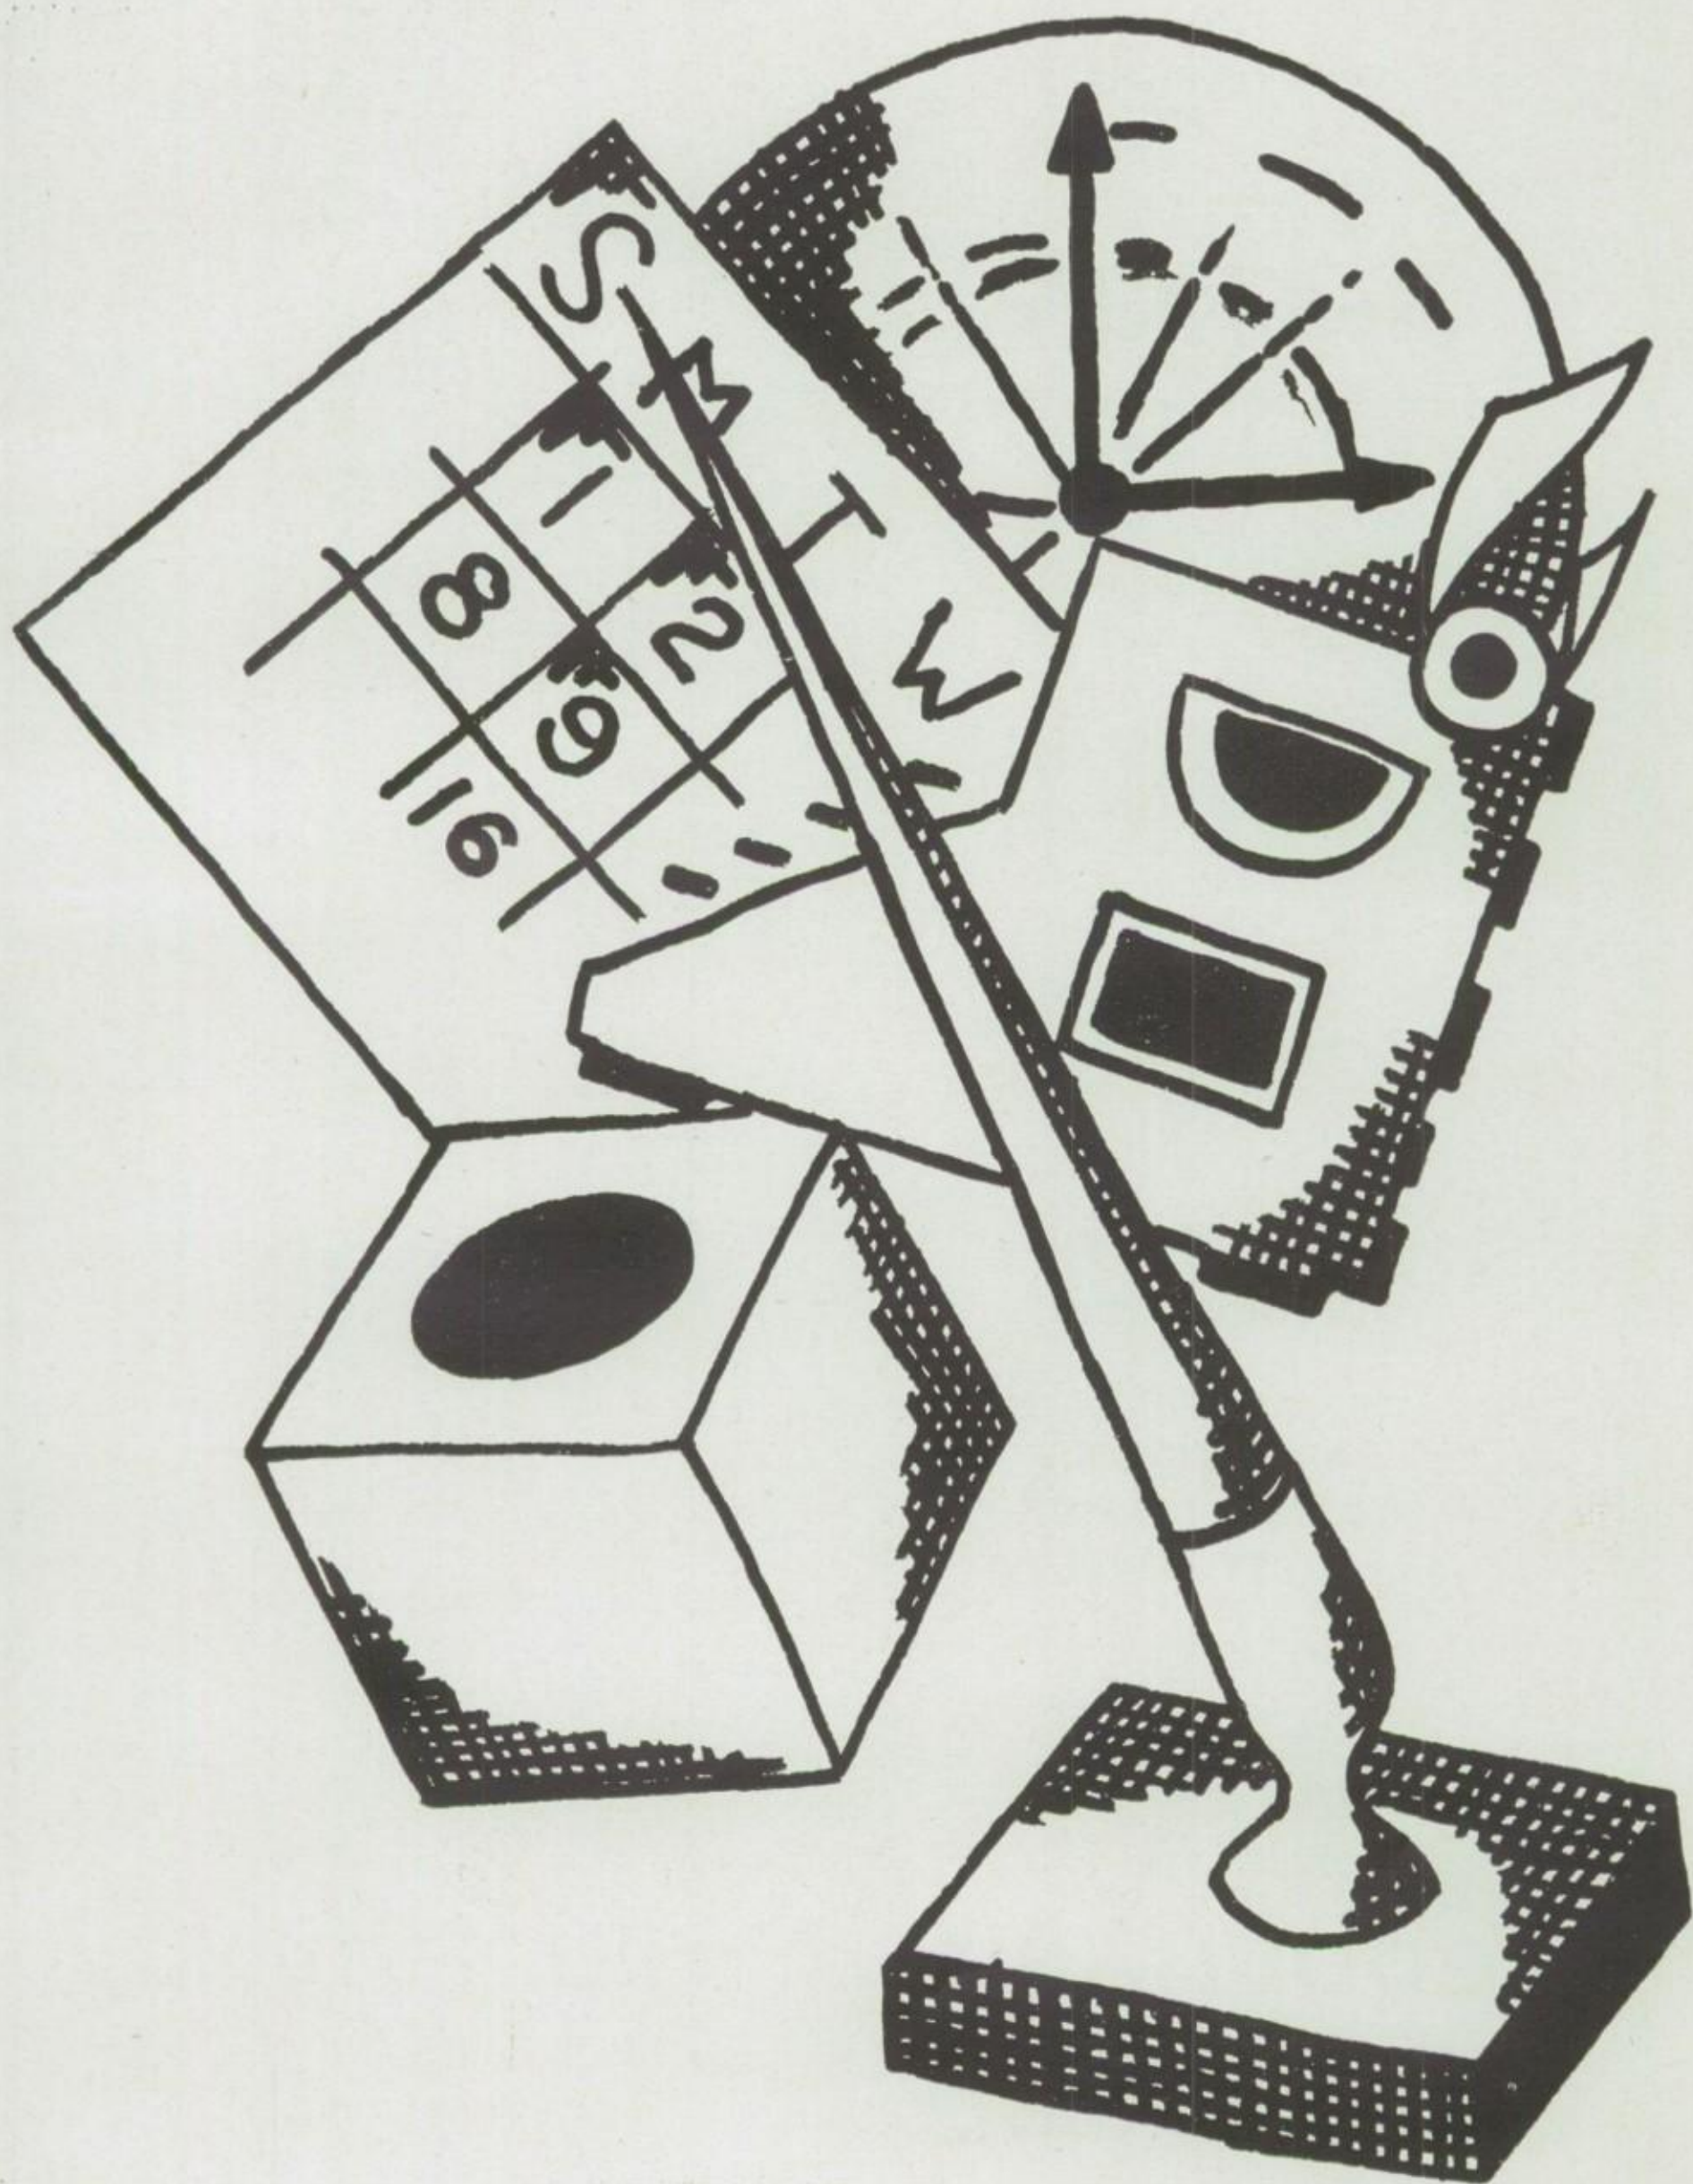

Bob Vogel, Lutz, Reed, and Brown of the football lettermen's relay team. Pole vaulters: Stamp, Lutz, and Hannafan. Field coach Kunz shows the way. Half-milers: Foster, Evers; and quarter-miler Stewart. Field star Dwight Price winds up. The underclassmen relay with Hudson, Baugh, Schneider, and L. Vogel. Coach Wilson tries one with the shot. Dick Price follows his big brother's example. Brown, Reed, Jones, Mersch, D. Price and Foster pose. Bob Vogel shoots the shot. Track coach Schneider clocks Jim Burlingame. L. Vogel and Hudson, quarter-milers. Famed 880 yard relay team: Cole, L. Vogel, Burlingame, and Hofacre.
